RSC Research Grant Initiative

Once again the Religious Studies Center is pleased to announce its annual competition for a limited number of significant research awards in support of LDS scholarship as it relates to the mission of the RSC. This includes the study of the doctrines and on-going history of the Church, the early Christian church, LDS standard works (including the Holy Bible) and the ancient world, the restored Church in relation to other cultures, religions and the behavioral sciences. The RSC also seeks to improve gospel instruction. Faculty members in Religious Education and in other colleges across the BYU campus are especially encouraged to apply.

Funding levels depend upon the nature of the project and the number of applications. Grants may provide financial assistance for travel, supplies, and student wages (see attached application form). The deadline for applications is 1 June 2013 with notifications by mid-summer. Moneys will be available for disbursement starting in January 2014 and must be spent by the end of the year.

Proposals must include a vita, a thorough description of the project and explanation of its significance, a detailed budget, the projected length of the project, department chair and other letters of support and recommendation, and any other pertinent and supportive information.
